ABAC To Take Survey On Placing Questions On Ballot

The Board of Selectmen Monday night gave its blessing to the Alcoholic Beverage Advisory Committee to investigate the feasibility and desirability of placing questions C and E, relative to alcoholic beverage licenses in the town of Arlington. The tentative plan of the committee is broken down into two phases.

Voters Must Fill 99 TMM Vacancies

There are 99 Town Meeting member vacancies to be filled at the Annual Town Election March 2. According to Town Clerk Mary Farrington the usual vacancies are due to the expiration of the regular three-year term of town meeting members and there are 15 vacancies for one and two-year unexpired terms of members who have resigned, passed away or moved out of the precinct. January 21 at 5 p.m. is the final date and hour for town meeting members whose terms are expiring and who wish to become candidates for re-election to file written request with the Town Clerk. No nomination papers will be issued after January 24, and January 28 at 5 p.m. is the final date and hour for filing nomination papers for all town offices, including town meeting members, with the Registrars of Voters for the certification of signatures.

2 Are Arrested During Attempted Pharmacy Holdup

A Malden man is in good condition at Symmes Hospital this week after being shot during a holdup attempt at Maida Pharmacy, East Arlington, last Wednesday night.

Michael MacDonald, 20, has been charged with armed robbery, conspiracy to commit robbery, possession of burglarious tools, larceny of a motor vehicle and illegal possession of a firearm.

Also arrested at the scene was Wayne R. Melanson, 19, of Malden. He was arraigned in District Court on Jan. 3 on charges of armed robbery, conspiracy to commit robbery, possession of burglarious tools and larceny of a motor vehicle.

According to witnesses, MacDonald entered the pharmacy about 10:30 p.m. with a girl, showed gun and announced a stick-up. Pharmacist Laurence Maida, son of the owner, opened fire with a gun he kept behind the counter.

Four shots were fired, one of them striking MacDonald on the right side of the head. He dropped his gun and was captured by Arlington Patrolman James Allen. Allen had been alerted of the holdup by a clerk who slipped out the back door before the shooting broke out.

The girl escaped in a light colored, late model Ford sedan which was later found a short distance from the scene. The car had been reported stolen earlier in Cambridge.

According to police, Melanson was arrested when he attempted to come to the aid of the injured MacDonald. MacDonald was treated by the Arlington Fire Department Rescue Company and then transported to Symmes Hospital.

Officer Allen reported the holdup in progress over his radio as he ran to the pharmacy. Several cruisers were on the scene in seconds, along with Detective Lt. Harry Ryerson and Detective Gino Schiavo.

Among the officers taking part in the arrest and investigation were Sgt. William Carroll, and patrolmen Shaun O'Halloran, Frank McKenna, James Crocker, Dave McNamee and James Allen.

The court has issued warrants against MacDonald and he will be arraigned as soon as he is able to leave the hospital. A hearing date of Jan. 11 was set for Melanson.

Phase I objectives conclude with the ABAC responding to the Board of Selectmen with their recommendation regarding feasibility and desirability of placing the two alcoholic beverage questions on the 1974 State Ballot.

The ABAC under this phase plans to acquire pertinent information from various sectors of the Town through sample surveys, questionnaires, news media, etc. so that it may be analyzed and presented to the ABAC membership for their deliberation.

Phase II will address the actions required to obtain the required signatures for submittal to the Secretary of State. Additional detailed information regarding Phase II will be presented if the ABAC recommendation of Phase I is favorable and it is accepted by the Board of Selectmen.

As a result of the approval of the Board of Selectmen Monday the Committee now intends to implement the plan by forming subcommittees from its members, prepare a questionnaire, distribute the questionnaire to all Town Meeting members. Each TMM would be required to obtain the opinion of four registered voters in their neighborhood, plus their own opinion. The questionnaire would also be distributed to business and social organizations.

It is also requested that the questionnaire appear in the local newspaper and that all questionnaires be collected and summarized.

Plans call for the survey to be taken this month and returned by February 1. A public meeting will be also held at a later date.

The question is being approached from two viewpoints, economical and social.

The Committee will report back to the Board of Selectmen, Feb. 25, and if the results of the survey prove to be favorable then it is anticipated that the Committee will start work on Phase II.

This means obtaining signatures on a petition so that the questions may be placed on the ballot in the fall.

It is hoped that all petitioning will be completed by the end of June. Deadline by the Committee for submission of petitions locally is Aug. 30, and a week later at the state level.

Question C reads: Shall licenses be granted in this town for the sale therein of all alcoholic beverages in packages, so-called, not to be drunk on the premises? Signatures of five percent of the registered voters are needed on this question since it has appeared on the ballot previously.

Question E reads: Shall licenses be granted in this town for the sale therein of alcoholic beverages by restaurants and function rooms having a seating capacity of not less than one hundred persons? Signatures of 10 percent of the registered voters are needed on this question since it has not appeared on the ballot.

Members of the Committee include Rico A. Merluzzo, chairman, David Buck, co-chairman, Alfred Murphy, secretary, James Dowd, Thomas Hannon, David Freedland, Rita Neri, Michael O'Donnell, Constantino Philips, Louise Tsoi and Robert Shaw.

Nine Candidates Take Out Papers

Nine candidates have taken out papers for major office in Arlington.

All incumbents have taken out papers with the exception of Selectman Arthur D. Saul, Jr. In fact no one has taken out papers for Selectman.

Town Moderator Lawrence E. Corcoran 146 George st., has taken out papers while two candidates have taken out papers for Assessor. They include present Assessor Paul E. Cantrell, 3 Stevens terr. and Dagiel A. Purcell, 90 Stowcroft rd.

Four candidates have taken out papers for School Committee. Included are Alexander B. Wilson, 154 Pheasant ave. and incumbents William A. Carey, Jr., 118 Lowell st., Dorothea W. Stein, 41 Jason st. and Doris M. Cremens, 64 Mt. Vernon st.

Incumbent John J. Hogan, 19 Ivy circle has taken out papers for Housing Authority and Leo B. Byrne, 31 Franklin st. has taken out papers for the same office.

SHOT IN HEAD. Arlington Patrolman Dave McNamee and Fire Dept. Lt. Tom Turnbull give first aid to Michael MacDonald, 20, of Malden who was shot by pharmacist Laurence Maida during a hold-up attempt at Maida Drug, East Arlington. According to police, MacDonald was carrying a nickel plated revolver which he dropped in front of the counter. He was hit in the right side of the head by one of four shots fired during the hold-up attempt. (Advocate Staff Photo)

Druggists Take Steps To Protect Their Businesses

By Larry Barton

More effective burglar alarms, increased staffing, more lighting are some solutions Arlington druggists are taking and considering in the wake of continuing holdups and breaks, the most recent of which was last Wednesday.

The owners of these stores are concerned with the attempted robberies of local pharmacies. Laurence Maida, owner of Maida Pharmacy where the attempted hold-up took place Wednesday, says that those breaking in to drug stores are looking for drugs, not cash.

Maida says he doubts if there is any way to discourage these breaks. He has been held up once before and he keeps a gun. "It keeps us alive," he says.

Some other pharmacies disagree about keeping guns in the store. Leonard F. Tibbetts, former owner of the Sears and Tibbetts Pharmacy, says "I do not believe in a weapon, that is asking for trouble."

To discourage hold-ups and break-ins Tibbetts thinks drug stores could install better alarm systems and could scatter drugs throughout the store, making it harder for the criminal to find the drugs that he wants.

Aaron Stepanski of Morningside Pharmacy thinks the nine druggists in town should have an intercom system. As for guns, he says he and his partner are split. "I don't believe in it."

It was at Morningside Pharmacy in April that two hold-up men held two hostages until they were talked into surrendering by Police Lt. Harry Ryerson.

Stepanski says he has cut back the hours his drug store is open, but he doesn't think that helps—the last hold-up attempt was at 6:30 p.m.

Although his Lexington store has been held up twice, Al Cavaretta of the Brattle Pharmacy has had no hold-up or breaks attempted so far in Arlington. Agreeing that those who rob pharmacies are looking for drugs, he says he thinks the fact that his store has only one entrance has helped.

There is some debate about how drugs should be displayed. Says Cavaretta about the method of storing the drugs in a safe, "then the robbers walk away with the entire safe."

Browne Drug Store has been broken into, and owner David Epstein is upset about the whole situation for local druggists. He says one solution is to close earlier, but he had not done this.

While he had not changed the manner in which his store is run, except to keep little cash, he feels that stronger laws against offenders would benefit everyone, from the public to the druggist.

"I go for the Japanese treatment for drug users," says Epstein, "abstinence from medication and withdrawal." He believes local druggists have problems because of the drug users in Cambridge.

"We certainly have enough police, and they check my store hourly at night," he says. Peter J. O'Reilly of Menotomy Pharmacy feels that by being aware of who is in the store, owners can protect their staffs and their customers.

He sees no way to reduce the number of drugs carried. O'Reilly also thinks that additional lighting inside the stores helps staff see what is going on.

On the question of keeping a weapon,

O'Reilly says "if citizens have the right to protect themselves, we do too." At this pharmacy he has increased the size of his staff so that more people are on duty and alert for suspicious people in the store.

One problem each pharmacist in Arlington has is the phony prescription. A typical situation would go like this: a man walks up to the prescription counter and hands the pharmacist a written order for a drug. The problem is how the pharmacist can tell if the order is genuine or not.

"You can smell a phony prescription," says Harold Partamian of Rawson Pharmacy. "When you've been in business for a long time, you can tell by the nature of it."

Al Cavaretta at Brattle Pharmacy has a new policy to cope with suspected phony prescriptions. The customer is simply told the drug is not in stock.

David Epstein of Browne Drug tells about the time he took a person to court for trying to fill a phony prescription. "He was a fifth time offender, and the judge gave him probation."

In another incident when two 17-year-olds were caught breaking into his store, the youths were also given probation. Asks Epstein, "Why bother taking them to court?"

What the future holds for the local pharmacists is uncertain. With each new business day they face the continuing problem of break-ins, hold-ups, phony prescriptions, not to mention everyday shop lifting.

Harold Partamian of Rawson Pharmacy sums up the feeling of many when he says "I feel it is not fair for a person who is trying to make an honest living to be held up. They should have tougher laws for those who break in—put them away for 50 years."

Elem. Schools Now Open At 9

School opening hours for the public elementary schools have been changed until the February vacation because of early-morning darkness with the change to Daylight Saving Time.

Effective this week through Feb. 15 the School Committee and administration have adopted the following hours for elementary schools:

Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, 9 a.m. through 2:45 p.m.

Wednesdays, 9 a.m. through 1 p.m. After the February vacation the schools will return to the normal hours of 8:30 to 2:15, with 12:30 p.m. dismissal on Wednesdays.

The School Committee voted against changing school hours for the junior high schools which now open at 8:15 a.m.

Ottoson principal Edmund Mahoney reported that a survey at his school showed half the teachers and two-thirds of the students oppose a later day.

Mahoney and Supt. William Gibbs advise students who may be walking before full daylight to wear light or reflective clothing for additional protection.

Arlington Safety Officer Arthur Guarente, however, asks those students to walk on sidewalks and advises motorists to be alert for the older students.

Limit Sales

Local Service Stations Act To Make Gas Last

An informal survey of many of the gas stations on Massachusetts avenue by The Advocate shows that station operators are resorting to a variety of practices to conserve what gas they have, from cutting back hours and closing during the day, to limiting each sale.

While reductions in allocations from suppliers vary at each station, the problems facing all stations are the same. The Advocate found some closed, and did not find one that has not experienced dry pumps at some time this winter.

The Arlon Gulf was out of gas for a week during the New Year's period. While their allocation has been cut only 3 percent, the gas is going fast because of heavy demand.

Some stations say they are so busy pumping gas they don't have time to service cars or do other work.

Arlon limits sales to $5 with the exception of some of its regular commercial accounts. The station now closes at 6 p.m. instead of 9, and is closed Sundays.

Charlie's Citgo is now also closed Sundays and closes at 6 on the other days.

Fred's Gulf before the gas shortage had been closing Sundays and at 6 p.m., but now the allocation has been cut in half.

The station limits customers to $3, and when the end of the month comes and the allocation is running low, the sales are limited to $2. The last holiday the station had to wait six days to get gas.

Feeney's Service Center limits customers to $2. The station was closed for a week because of no gas. The business now also closes at 6 p.m. and is closed Sundays.

Mass. Ave. American puts a $3 limit on sales and limits sales to $2 at the end of the month. Its allocation has been cut almost in half and there were days when it was out of gas. Instead of being open until 9, the station now closes at 5 and is closed Sundays.

When The Advocate visited Fredo's Exxon the station was closed for the day. Its twice-a-month deliveries of gas bring in 16 percent less fuel than the station got in 1972, the year on which the allocations are based.

Fredo's has had to let help go, now closes at 5 and is closed Sundays. Saturday the station closes at 4 p.m. Sales are limited to $2.

Says a spokesman at the station, 25 years ago service station operators made 5 cents a gallon, now they make 7 cents and have been dubbed "gougers." He reminds residents that station owners have worked long days for years and that nobody has to buy gas from anyone they don't want to, and they don't have to pay 99 cents a gallon.

Arlington Shell has instituted a schedule with a four-hour closing to conserve gas. The station used to be open from 6 a.m. to midnight. Now it is open from 7:30 to 11 a.m. and from 3 to 5:30 p.m. The station is now closed on Sundays.

Sales at the Shell are limited to $5. While it gets deliveries every three days, there have been days when the station has not had gas.

At Grey's Sunoco the gas allocation has been cut back 10 percent and sales are limited to $4. This station also now closes at 6 p.m. and is closed all day Sundays and at 5 on Saturdays. At Christmas and New Year's the station was out of gas.

Arlington Center Mobil says the situation is "terrible." This station closes for the day when it reaches a quota set for its sales each day in order to make the gas stretch for the month.

The station's allocation has been cut 17 percent and deliveries are bad, with the full allocation not being shipped.

The Mobil station, which used to be open until 11 p.m. now closes at 5 p.m. It is also closed Sundays. Sales are limited to $3.

Jones' Exxon across the street also sets a limit for his sales each day and closes down when the amount of gallons has been pumped.

This station is getting about half of its normal allocation because the figure is based on 1972 sales, and during that year the station had several months when one of its tanks was not being used.

The Exxon limits sales to $3 and has also closed Sundays and has half day Saturdays. Because demand is so great the station could pump its full month's supply in 10 days. In one day the station from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. pumped 1400 gallons of gas at a $3 maximum. For this reason the station personnel are so busy pumping they can't do other work.

Only one station operator has been told by his supplier that next month will be better. Most say customers are taking the shortage pretty well, although one said he lost a few customers. Where they would go in Arlington for more gas seems questionable as all of the stations seem to be taking measures to make the gas they have last.

At Symmes

First Baby Born On Jan. 1

Arlington's first baby of 1974 born at Symmes Hospital made his debut right on New Year's Day.

Nicholas Demopoulos was born to Mr. and Mrs. James N. Dimopoulos, 34 Alfred rd., at 1:40 p.m. He weighed in at 7 pounds, 13 ounces, and was 20 1/2 inches long. Dr. Leonard Dress attended.

Nicholas has a sister, Tasoula, 3 1/2. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Dimopoulos and Mr. and Mrs. George Papanikolopoulos, all of Greece.

Ten businesses have gifts for the first 1974 baby and family.

Brattle Pharmacy, 1043 Mass. ave., will give the family a $10 gift certificate. Flowers are being sent to Mrs. Dimopoulos by Tiberi Flower Shop, 177A Mass. ave.

An "Adventure in Beauty" will be given to

Mrs. Dimopoulos by Mr. Richard's Beauty Salon, 1035 Mass. ave. The baby will receive a savings account from Arlington Co-operative Bank, 699 Mass. ave.

Helen's Pastry Shoppe, 315 Broadway, will prepare a christening cake. Polka-Dot Junction, Woburn Plaza, will give a $20 gift certificate to Mrs. Dimopoulos.

Nicholas will receive some new clothes from Children's Fashion Shop, Arlington Center, which is giving him a $5 gift certificate. He will also receive a savings account from Coolidge Bank and Trust Company, 635 Mass. ave.

A Fisher-Price Activity Center is being given to Nicholas by the Ben Franklin Store, 1305 Mass. ave. Nevaire Gift Shop, 1 Medford st., is giving the Dimopoulos family a baby book.

Mrs. James Dimopoulos and Nicholas.

Advocate Has Policy For The Candidates

The Advocate will enforce the following policy for political candidates during the coming election.

All candidates will receive at no charge in The Advocate an announcement of candidacy, which will appear substantially as written by the candidate; a 250 word news release; and a 250 word letter to the editor. The purpose, as stated in past years, is to assure that all candidates have the opportunity to receive equal coverage.

In addition, The Advocate will again require that residents' names used as endorsers in political advertisements be accompanied by a written authorization for publication of the name. This policy was necessitated in past years because of charges being made that some residents' names were used without their knowledge.

Deadline for editorial material will be Monday at 4 p.m. Political advertising should be in by noon on Tuesdays.

Redevelopment Bd. Denies Zone Change, Upholds Moratorium

The Redevelopment Board stuck with its policy to stand by the moratorium and voted to take no action on a request for a zoning change along Mass. avenue.

The board was asked by Suburban National Bank, 856 Mass. ave., to rezone to Business A the property behind the bank, now a two-family house and lot, so that a parking lot could be constructed. The zone would run 180 feet back from the avenue.

Edward J. Duffy, president of the bank, said the 7,000 square foot property would enable the bank to park 17 more cars. Ten spaces are available now in a congested parking lot, and traffic waiting to go to the drive-in window often backs up to Massachusetts avenue, Duffy said.

He reported that a count showed an average of 200 cars a day at the drive-in window and over 2000 people a week in the lobby. The bank also has 25 employees.

Duffy and another petitioner, Dr. William S. Carvelli, of Bailey road, represented by Atty. Robert Annesse, asked the board to sponsor a rezoning article. They pointed out that the similar area across Churchill avenue is already a parking lot.

Duffy told the board he thought such action was consistent with the board's policy of assisting businesses caught in strip zoning.

There was some discussion if the board should file for a zoning change itself or let the petitioners file and hold a public hearing, then decide if it would support the article. Annesse said the board should decide and that the moratorium should not be a determining factor since it did not cover this kind of situation and this is a current need.

In its discussion later the board felt that while the moratorium was on apartment building, the district of the moratorium included the bank property, and the board should wait until a new zoning map was prepared.

Some members said that were the zoning changes ready they would not hesitate to act on the petition. Members also expressed concern that if they told the bank to draw up an article it would mislead them into expecting board support, therefore the board voted no action.

Two Are Named To Finance Committee

Two men were recently appointed to fill vacancies on the Finance Committee for Precincts 4 and 12.

Kenneth J. Simmons of 76 Egerton rd. has been appointed to the Prec 4 opening, and William M. Capron of 248 Gray st. to the Prec 12 vacancy.

Simmons, a graduate of Boston College and Suffolk Law School, is an attorney practicing in Cambridge. He is a member of the American, Mass., Middlesex County and Cambridge-Arlington-Belmont Bar Assns. and is on the executive board of the Cambridge Council Boy Scouts of America.

Capron, an economist and academic administrator, is associate dean of the Kennedy School of Govt. at Harvard. He served as assistant director of the US Bureau of the Budget in the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations. A graduate of Swarthmore College, he has also received two advanced degrees from Harvard.

He is a member of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. Until recently he was also a member of the Robbins Library Board of Trustees.

The vacancies were caused when William H. Dunn of Prec 4 died and Edward G. Grey of prec 12 resigned.

Cartooning For Srs.

On Monday, at 2 p.m. Chester Zucker will conduct a program on "How to do Cartooning" at the Jarvis House for senior citizens.

Catholic Women To Meet Wednesday

The Arlington Catholic Women's Club will hold a business and social meeting on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at American Legion Hall.

"Heritage Cooking" will be presented by Jeanne Ambutter and Robin Longstreet. Chairmen of the program are Mrs. Edward Finnegan and Mrs. Michael Santoliquida.

St. Agnes Mothers' Lunch On Monday

St. Agnes Mothers' Club will hold a luncheon and club party sponsored by Stop and Shop Club Party Company on Monday from 12:45 to 2:30 in St. Agnes School Hall. Tickets must be bought by tomorrow from Mrs. H. Ryerson or Mrs. D. Outram.

Girls', Boys' Gym For 4,5,6th Grades To Start Saturday

The Recreation and School Departments will co-sponsor a gymnastics program for 4th, 5th and 6th graders on Saturday afternoons in the Boys' Gym at the high school starting Saturday. The program is open to both boys and girls and registration will be on a first come, first served basis.

Classes will be at 1 and 2:30 p.m. and be about 75 minutes in length. Approximately 50 youngsters will be in each class.

The program will be under the direction of Paul Marrier and Brenda Niederecker who are physical education teachers at the Otis Jr. High. They have worked together in the past on a gymnastic program at the junior high level. Marrier is also Boys Varsity Gymnastics Coach at Arlington High School.

The course will be 10 weeks in length and begin on Saturday, Jan. 12th. Basic tumbling and floor exercise routines will be taught along with an introduction to some of the gymnastic equipment.

To register for the program contact the Recreation Department. A minimal registration fee will be charged upon registration.

Water Rates, Rte. 2, Warrant Articles To Be Discussed

Town Manager Donald R. Marquis will discuss three items with the Board of Selectmen, Monday night.

Marquis explained to the Board, Monday night that he intends to discuss water rates, Rte. 2 plans and warrant articles.

The MDC has proposed a fee of $200 per million gallons as its 1974 rate for water supplied to 32 cities and towns.

This marks the first increase since the current $120 rate was established by the Legislature 12 years ago.

Marquis said that he wants to think about the matter and talk about it next week.

The Manager also stated that he wants to discuss with the Board road construction plans in the East Arlington area, and will also bring before the Board all those warrant articles to be inserted by him.

Roller Skating For Youngsters Will Start On Saturday

The Recreation Department on Saturday will start roller skating sessions for youngsters Saturday afternoons in the Multi-Purpose Room of the high school. Classes will be held at 1 and 2:30 p.m. The Recreation Department will provide skates for those that do not have their own. The program will be 10 weeks in length.

The program will be well-supervised and some basic instruction will be offered for those wishing instruction. Registration will be on a first come, first served basis and classes will be limited in size. A minimal registration fee will be charged upon registration.

Martin L. King Program Tuesday

Martin Luther King's birthday Tuesday will be observed by the Arlington Ecumenical Assn. and the Arlington Civil Rights Committee at 8:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church, Pleasant street.

The short film "I Have A Dream" will be shown. Dr. Arthur L. Whitaker of Arlington, Minister of Public Ministries, American Baptist Churches of Massachusetts, will speak.

Discussion and refreshments will follow.

There will be a dance to benefit the St. Agnes' CYO tomorrow in the gym of Fidelity House on Medford st. The dance features the band "Sledgehammer," and begins at 8 p.m.

The CYO sponsors various programs throughout the year and your support is really appreciated.

The student body of ACHS was entertained Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Mary Louise Hickey, a noted dramatist, performed a selection from "The Miracle Worker."

The play noted the highlights of the life of Helen Keller, her instructors and family.

The Arlington High School Student Council will hold a very important meeting tonight at 7:30. This meeting will be held in the A.H.S. Senior Lounge. All committee chairmen and officers are urged to attend.

The St. Agnes' Band will be the featured attraction at next Wednesday night's "Smorgasbord" supper at ACHS beginning at 7 p.m. The program is sponsored by the Mother's Guild to benefit the Oratory Club.

Various meat dishes, casseroles and desserts will be served, with entertainment. An enjoyable evening for all. Tickets are available from oratory officers.

Members of the A.H.S. Survival Program will be participating in a survival practicum this week. The best of luck is given to each member and we hope to see them alive and well and in school on Monday.

Four ACHS Senior girls have participated in a religious television program over Channel 4. Chris Igo, Eileen Smith, Nancy Broderick and Meg Derba.

The program, "A Show of Faith," concerned panel discussions and audience participation dealing with religious attitudes in today's world.

Sanders Out To Combat Icy Condition House, Car Breaks

The icy conditions in Arlington last week caused by the freezing rain storm brought several sanding units out to work on Arlington streets.

According to John Bowler, administrative assistant of the Dept. of Public Works, three units were out, Thursday night 6 p.m. to midnight, and seven units were pressed into service after midnight and into the morning hours.

Panel on Monday To Discuss Law Judicial System

Have you ever wondered how our judicial system would proceed if you were to come into conflict with the law? How could such trial and post-trial procedures as plea-bargaining and alternatives to sentencing affect your case? Would you want a jury decision or not?

Residents are invited to learn more about "Due Process Under the Law" at a seminar sponsored by the Administration of Justice Committee of the League of Women Voters on Monday at the Edith Fox Library at 7:30 p.m.

Guest panelists will include Judge Arlyene Hassett, a special justice at Waltham District Court; John McGrath, an ex-convict who was associated with former Corrections Commissioner John Boone in a national prison reform movement; and Edward Sullivan, Chief Clerk of Courts at the Middlesex Superior Court.

AHS Menu

Monday: frankfurter on roll or lettuce - tomato-cheese sandwich. Potato stripes, cole slaw, fruit, juice, milk.

Tuesday: meatball sub or tuna salad on roll. Whipped potatoes, corn, fruit, juice, bread and butter, milk.

Wednesday: cheese pizza or bologna salad sandwich. Shredded lettuce with dressing, fruit, juice, milk.

Thursday: meat ravioli with meat sauce or cold cut sub. Green beans, tossed salad, fruit, juice, bread and butter, milk.

Friday: hamburger on roll or egg salad sandwich. French fries, lettuce and tomato slice, fruit, juice, milk.

Police Investigate, House, Car Breaks

Arlington police are investigating a series of breaks in homes and cars throughout the town during the past week.

On New Year's Day a report was received that the office of the apartment building at the Hamilton Apartments in East Arlington had been entered and a sum of money and tools taken.

On the same day police received a report that a car had been entered at 21 Grove st. and a radio, tape deck, stereo tapes, three speakers and a tool box taken.

Also, on Jan. 1, an apartment was entered at 1167 Mass. ave. and two typewriters, two adding machines, a camera, a vacuum cleaner and a clock taken.

On Jan. 2 a tire and wheel were reported taken from 4 Winslow st., while on the same day a nylon rope, three fire extinguishers were stolen from a truck parked at 30 Mill lane.

A home was entered at 91B Summer st., Jan. 2 and ransacked, while a radio was stolen from a car parked at 74 Broadway on the same day.

On Jan. 3 the Mystic Mart, 144 Mystic st., was entered and money and cigarettes taken. A plate glass window was broken, Jan. 3, at 25 Mystic st., while on Jan. 4 a store was reported broken into at 1351 Mass. ave. and a sum of money taken.

On the same day tools were taken from a car at 424 Mass. ave. Gas was reported siphoned from a car at 20 Tufts st., on Jan. 4, while two stereo tapes were reported taken from 22 Mill st., also on Jan. 4.

The Clothes Tree, 1036 Mass. was reported entered Jan. 5, and the front window was also reported broken. The front window of Zwicker's, 16 Mill st., was reported broken on the same day.

A plate glass window was reported broken at the Dance Spectrum, 238 Mass. ave., Jan. 6, while the rear hallway of a home at 72 Overlook rd. was entered and ransacked, Jan. 6.

A Dudley st. apartment was entered and a television taken on the same day. Some men's clothes were also reported missing.

On Jan. 7, the Berkey Photo of New England, 971 Mass. ave. was entered and a camera and an amount of money stolen.

Collins' Corner

The Passing Of Joseph Bevins

News from Florida tells of the passing of Joseph Bevins who resided here for many years, and took a very active part in many community affairs. Originally a native of Salem, he came to Arlington after serving in the armed forces in World War I and graduating from Salem Normal School and joined the faculty of our High School.

A keen student of athletics he was appointed the basketball coach, and on St. Patrick's night at the hangar at M.I.T. Arlington High School won the Tech Tourney by defeating a fine Chelsea High Team. Those in attendance will never forget the Arlington team running out on the floor with Shamrocks on their backs, as the band played the Wearing of the Green and when the announcer gave the lineups with a shamrock on his megaphone the Chelsea stands raised the roof with their famous Gefilte Fish cheer.

For years Joe loved to talk about that evening as it was the only time in history that Arlington High were the champs. To many who knew him, the age of 80 almost seems wrong, because he has that enthusiasm that kept him in step with the times. After teaching here he went to Melrose, and finally was in the Boston School System.

In 1931 he decided to enter the political scene and he ran for School Committee and was elected, even though he was "bucking" the powers-to-be, known at that time as the Citizens Committee. He became known as a maverick, as he climbed on the bandwagon with the Casey's, Barry's, Collins, Lowes, Mitchell and Wilcox. Twice he was elected chairman of the committee, and with but one interruption served until he retired in 1955.

A few years later he moved to Florida, but over the years he came back to visit here. Schooled in the education field he had definite ideas about many phases of it, and at Town Meeting Joe Bevins held the attention of all when he arose to speak. For years he was one of the top high school football officials in these parts and was highly regarded.

Interestingly enough he was responsible in bringing our present Superintendent William Gibbs to Arlington from Gloucester and he became a teacher in the high school. The writer had a very pleasant visit with him last summer in Arlington, and was in touch with him over the years. This picture, that he treasured, shows the boys on that team were his pride and joy. Sitting on the front row, L to R, Joe Donahur, now living in New Hampshire, and working for the Hearst papers; Joe Beasley, living here; and head of the state's beautification program, Bill (Tim) McNamara, living on the Cape and with Gulf Oil; John Driscoll, one of our leading attorneys; and Bill (Lefty) Lowder, the High School's Director of Athletics. Second Row, L to R, Mgr. Donald Duffe; and next to him Tom O'Keefe, both who have gone to their rewards; George Lowder, a teacher in the High School and former golf and basketball coach; Bob Friery, living in California, and in the state's educational program; and then the coach himself, whose son Ralph (Iky) is in our physical education department in the High School, and a few years ago he was inducted in the B.U. Hall of Fame.

They were a fine group and their coach was always happy when he knew they were all doing so well. These are not happy columns to write, but the memories are wonderful. The writer extends his sympathy to Mrs. Bevins and family.

As I write this, word was brought that another fine athlete, Al Gutzman died. Many will remember him in High School and later at Syracuse University where he was the heavyweight boxing champ. May they all meet up above and continue to discuss those nice days at Arlington High.

Protest Expansion

TO THE EDITOR:

I am a 67-year-old resident of Arlington, and have owned my home for the past 40 years. During this time, I can recall thousands of boys and girls going through the Arlington public schools without having any swimming pools, skating rinks, basketball courts, football fields (other than the existing ones), etc. I feel certain that a large number of these children have done well in later years.

Now, why all of a sudden these unnecessary and expensive proposals? I can understand, and am for, enlarging or expanding any school, which becomes overcrowded or whatever, but will an elaborate and expensive proposal, such as the one suggested, help the education of these children? Will it broaden it? I think not.

Men around my age bracket and over have worked hard 30 and 40 years in order to have a roof over their head in their old age. Now, with these proposals, it will mean an increase of 70 percent to 80 percent in taxes placed on single home owners.

Many of these home owners have little or no income other than Social Security. We have no means of passing this expense elsewhere. The property owners with income from their property can pass their share of the expense to their tenants, so the increased taxes will not burden them anyway.

Therefore, I, as a tax payer, strongly protest these unnecessary expansion proposals and I appeal to the town people to give consideration to the single home owners, particularly the senior citizens, who long ago paid their debt for the education of their children in this Town of Arlington.

Very truly yours,
Leo Parnagian
47 Mott St.

Irate Taxpayer

To the Editor:

Since December 31st and for four consecutive nights thereafter my greenhouses have been bombarded with rocks by the local youngsters in the East Arlington area. Due to this act of vandalism my florist business has suffered a very serious setback, with over 250 panes of glass being smashed and one entire greenhouse having been rendered useless for the coming season.

I would be willing to shell out the necessary cost of repairing the damage estimated to be in the neighborhood of $1,500, but it is almost impossible to have this kind of repair work done in the heart of winter. Even if I were fortunate enough to find someone willing to do the work I would be living in constant fear from the next shower of rocks by the same vandals who are still at large.

I have been a resident of Arlington for the entire 62 years of my life, and for over 42 years I have farmed in this area and I've worked hard to build up my greenhouse establishment and now it seems that our police department is incapable of preventing a gang of rowdy youths from driving me out of business.

I am at my wits end having nowhere to turn for assistance since I have called the town manager's office to see if at least he would have the public works department remove the rocks along a section of North Union Street, which is the source of cannon fodder for the stone-throwers. This request has been denied.

I'm sure the town hall won't forget to send me my full property tax bill for the greenhouse which I am unable to operate. It seems that the best of the officials of this town can do it to console me with the fact that it cost the town thousands of dollars each year to repair the broken windows in our schools, but here all the tax payers of the town foot the bill while I am the only one who has to pay for the damages done to my property.

More On Mid-East

TO THE EDITOR:

In response to the letter of Daniel and Beverly Wolf, I want to thank them for their acknowledgement of my humanitarian letters to the editor.

In answer to their question of my urging Christian leaders as do the Jewish religious leaders to protest the mistreatment of Israeli P.O.W. first of all, why the mention of Christian leaders and Jewish leaders? Is there any difference between the two when it comes to humanitarian morality?

I wholeheartedly agree with you that this issue of P.O.W. as well as many other issues are of undisputable humanitarian concern and that all religious leaders have a moral obligation to protest and cry out about all the inhuman treatments that is taking place in the Mid-East.

Now in regard to the mistreatment of Israeli P.O.W. in Syria, let me say that according to the statement of our Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, there is no evidence of such a thing and he was satisfied when he confronted the Syrian government in Damascus about the Israeli P.O.W. that there was no mistreatment.

As to the reason Syria refused to provide a list of P.O.W. I do not know. Could it be, I wonder, because Israel forced the Syrian P.O.W. to march ahead of their invading armed forces to detect if there were any explosive mines in the ground? Or because Israel bombed and shelled the homes of innocent people in Damascus, killing and maiming thousands of inhabitants as well as destroying their homes, churches, and mosques?

And incidentally, did Israel supply Syria with a list of the Syrian P.O.W. after their forced march to discover if there were any mines in the ground before the Israeli advance? I do not know, but I do know that there must have been a reason such as the above and only time will tell what the reason is.

In regard to your questioning me whether the Israeli P.O.W. lives are less valuable than others? I say no human life should be more valuable than another, but it is not so in the opinion of Israeli prime minister Golda Meir as reported in the London Times of June 15, 1969 "there was no such thing as Palestinians. They do not exist." Nor in the opinion of a hawkish Israeli expert on Palestinians as he told it to an overseas news editor of the Christian Science Monitor Mr. Geoffrey Godsell when he was in Tel Aviv recently, "If a Jewish child laughs, it is immaterial if an Arab child cries."

Nor in the laws of the Israeli government and its decisive actions of its denial of the right of the displaced Palestinian Christians and Moslems to "return" to their homeland against the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights in Article 13 (2) which states that "everyone has the right to leave any country including his own, and return to his country," but continually invoking the right of the Russian Jews to leave their country and go to Israel so they could live in the homes of the displaced Palestinians.

I hope the aforesaid answered all your questions and now that Israel's election is over, and there is a peace conference going on in Geneva, let us hope and pray that peace will prevail to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Happy New Year!

Sincerely yours,
George H. Mudarri
33 Edgell Rd.

UNICEF Sales

TO THE EDITOR:

Because we take pride in the success of the UNICEF Greeting Card sale as a community effort, we feel that a report and an expression of gratitude to those involved are in order.

Our sales have grown steadily over the years and totalled in excess of $4000 in 1973. It probably bears repeating that the bulk of these funds is directed towards health, education, and nutrition programs for children in 130 countries.

Publicity provided by The Advocate, posters displayed by many local merchants, excellent selling area provided by the Coolidge Bank, and a sales force of approximately 40 volunteers combined to make this another banner year.

Time and space will not permit specifics, but those of us associated with UNICEF would like to thank these participants and our loyal customers whose purchases represent an investment in the future of millions of children.

That Man About Town...by MAT

All of the incumbents whose terms are up in March have taken out papers for reelection except Selectman Arthur Saul.

School Committee members Bill Carey, Dot Stein and Doris Cremens will be running for reelection and so far only Alex Wilson has taken out papers to oppose them. So it is four people for three seats at present and deadline for taking out papers is Jan. 24.

Town Moderator Larry Corcoran will be running for reelection and as yet has no opposition. And, in a contradiction of what he has publicly stated in the past, Assessor Paul Cantrell has taken out nomination papers for reelection.

Cantrell has told the boss, and others, on numerous occasions that he would serve only one term. Of course, what is said in a non-election year and what is done when election time rolls around are often two different things when it comes to politics. Cantrell will be opposed by Dan Purcell, long time town meeting member and former Cemetery Commissioner.

John Hogan will be running for reelection to the Housing Authority and he will be opposed by Leo B. Byrne. Byrne is an Arlington Housing Inspector and his brother is a member of the Board of Assessors.

At this writing, no one is running for the single open seat on the Board of Selectmen. Incumbent Arthur Saul ran somewhat reluctantly last time and should be encouraged to do so again. Now more than ever a man of his stature, depth, credibility and experience in town government is needed on that board.

Over the past two years there have been too many attempts to turn the board into a political circus. Last year's fiasco involving a Supreme Court case over a technical interpretation of the by-law and the resulting nine month delay in seating the winners was centered around just such a political struggle. We've had enough of it.

The Planning Department is losing another key staff member, Redevelopment Planner Paul Donham. He has been here about two years. A couple of months ago Planner Dick Matthews left for a job in Canada. Both contributed considerably toward getting the department on the way to concrete results for the town.

Planning Director Leo T. Young says he has received several applications to fill these openings and he hopes to make some appointments soon. Unfortunately, it takes quite a while for a new person to get into the swing of things.

Some towns are moving their town meeting time from March to May or June to be closer to the July 1 fiscal year to give town departments more time to work on budgets. The advantages and disadvantages of this ought to be weighed for Arlington.

The Redevelopment Board this week voted not to consider an article to rezone a portion of land behind the Suburban National Bank for a parking lot and drive up window. The land is owned by the bank which wants to relieve the traffic congestion and long lines.

The reason given was that the land is in the apartment building moratorium zone and the board has a policy of not taking any action in the zone until the master plan is completed.

On the surface that sounds reasonable, but we hope the board doesn't mean its intention is to delay progress in the name of "policy." The bank's parking lot doesn't have anything to do with the apartment moratorium and ought to stand or fall on its own merits. We hope this isn't a sign of weakness on the board; progress is not made by boards which avoid decisions and far too little progress has been evident from the Redevelopment Board already.

About 100 people attended the meeting Tuesday night on the proposals to move the town yard to make room for the high school expansion.

While there will be a full report on the alternatives and details in next week's Advocate, it looks from here as though Chairman Bob McLaughlin has his work cut out for him.

Several people opposed rushing a decision by the Jan. 21 town warrant deadline, but McLaughlin points out that the October Special Town Meeting mandate called for a recommendation for the annual meeting.

Sites under consideration in addition to the former town dump on Summer st. include Hill's Hill, at Summer and Washington sts., and, if you can believe it, one suggestion to fill in the Reservoir.

All of the open land in the town has been looked at, including the land at Summer and Mystic sts., the former Theodore Schwamb Co. property and the PUD site on Rte. 2. But if the open space is not slated for development, it is also being considered for recreation or other public use so any decision will be a tough one.

THE BOX SCORE: All School Committee members present. Selectman John Bullock, absent.

Town Is Enjoined From Transferring Building Inspector

The Town Manager's office is checking with counsel on what position the town will take in view of a bill for declaratory judgment filed Monday in Middlesex Superior Court.

The bill temporarily enjoins Town Manager Donald R. Marquis and Deputy Fire Chief Warren French from transferring the town's building inspector from the Department of Planning and Community Development to the Fire Department.

Atty. Robert Anness, who represented Building Inspector William A. Libby, said there were two factors involved in the case.

One has to do with legislation signed Oct. 1 by Gov. Francis Sargent which requires that building commissioners and inspectors be responsible directly to the authority which appointed them. In this case, Libby, now in the Planning Department, would be responsible to the town manager.

The other factor, said Anness, is the issue of who the building inspector should be responsible to. The manager's proposal would make him responsible to a deputy fire chief.

The court has set Jan. 17 as the date to hear the case. At that time the court will decide to end the temporary restraining order or to continue it until a court hearing is scheduled.

Discuss Speed Zones On Arlington Streets

Speed zones along Gray and Jason sts. and along Paul Revere rd. from Mass. ave. to Appleton st. were discussed by Selectmen Monday night.

The matter will be discussed another week as the result of a request from Selectman Harry McCabe who wishes to see on maps the limits of the 30 MPH, 25 MPH and 20 MPH zones.

The matter came up as the result of a communication from the Traffic Engineer of the Dept. of Public Works.

Where To Vote When Jr. East Is Closed

Executive Secretary of the Board of Selectmen Frederick Pitcher will check into possibilities relative to voters casting their ballots at a location other than the Junior High School East at the March Election. The school is expected to be closed during renovations from February to September. It is not known whether the polls can be set up at the school under these circumstances.

Lunch, Skating Lessons, Family Fun Night Planned

The Recreation Department has three new programs which will begin for Arlington residents later this month. To take advantage of any of these activities contact the Recreation Office in person or by phone.

The first of these will be Friday Night Family Fun beginning Jan. 25 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. This program was designed to help promote family recreation in Arlington. Four gymnasiums in town will be open on Friday evenings.

Each gymnasium will be under the direction of a qualified physical education instructor. Various games and contests will be available to participants including floor hockey, basketball, volleyball and other activities involving both adults and children. All members of all families are welcome to participate free of charge.

The gyms are spaced to accommodate many people within walking distance of home. Dallin, Thompson, Stratton and the Freshman gym of the high school will be available to all. It is suggested that all who wish to participate call the Recreation Department and leave their name and the gym they will be attending. The program will

Woman's Club Today

The Arlington Woman's Club meets today at the Edith Fox Library. President Mrs. Herbert Knight will preside. Mrs. Ehrich E. M. Schreier, art chairman, will present Leo Boodakian who will speak about the origin and introduction to Oriental Rugs.

Pre-school Crafts Is Twice A Week

The Recreation Department's pre-school program is underway at the Fox Library and Peirce School on Monday afternoons and Friday mornings.

Friday's class at the Fox Library is closed, but Monday's class at the Peirce School is open. Dates for the class are Jan. 14, 21, 28 and Feb. 4, 11, 25 and March 4. Due to the Arlington Public Schools starting school at 9 a.m., the time for the class has been changed. New times are 12 to 12:45 and 1 to 1:45 p.m.

To register for the program call the Recreation Department through the Town Hall operator.

be held each Friday night for 10 weeks through March 29.

The next two programs are through the cooperation of the Metropolitan District Commission and James Whalen, Director of Recreation. On Wednesday mornings at 9:45 and 10:45 pre-school learn to skate classes for children 4 years of age and up will be conducted for children in the town.

Classes at the MDC Rink will be limited in size and a small registration fee will be charged to each participant. Sessions will be five weeks in length and the first session will be Jan. 23. To register, contact the Recreation Department. No registrations will be taken at the rink.

The third of these new programs will be for those who work in Arlington or will be in the area for lunch on Wednesday. The Recreation Department has arranged a luncheon skating session on Wednesday afternoons from 12 to 1 p.m. at the MDC Rink on Summer street. The rink will be open free of charge to all who wish to skate during lunch time.

A coffee urn will be provided so one can bring a sandwich and enjoy a free skate. This will begin on Jan. 23 and all that is asked is that one contact the Recreation Office by phone or in person and let them know you are coming. An instructor will be on hand to help beginners or those looking for some pointers or brush up techniques. All, no matter what skating ability, are welcome to take part.

Discover a break in our woods.

It's not really a clearing. Think of it as a break. And you get it for a limited time on a limited number of our pieces.

For instance, walnut, teak, maple, pine, cherry and fruitwood chairs and tables. Not to mention upholstered items like sofas and chairs in the finest fabrics.

While the savings aren't storewide, the selection is wide enough for any home. You'll see living, dining, bedroom and even occasional pieces. You'll find American traditional, contemporary and classic traditional styles.

Add all that to our usually remarkable prices and you've come upon a real break. It's here in our woods for a short time only. Make a point to discover it soon.

Open Monday thru Saturday 9:30 to 5:30
Monday and Thursday evenings 'til 9 p.m.

Symphony Cellist Leguia
To Give Concert On Sunday

The Robbins Library Concert Series will begin 1974 with a concert by Luis Leguia, cellist, on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The program of solo cello music will be held in the main reading room of Robbins Library, 700 Massachusetts Ave.

Leguia, a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and an internationally known cellist, has performed in recitals and concerts in Brazil, Argentina and Canada as well as in the eastern United States and has made recordings and broadcasts for CBS Montreal and BBC London.

In September and October 1972 he was on a European tour which met with high critical acclaim and during which he performed throughout Spain and Germany, including the Berlin Festival, also in Vienne, Brussels, Vienna, and London. In February 1974 he will be giving recitals in the Soviet Union and various European cities.

Leguia is on the faculty of the Boston Conservatory of Music. He has studied with Arthur Van den Bogaerde, Kurt Reher, in Los Angeles; Pablo Casals, Prades, France; Andre Navarra, Ecole Normale, Paris, and coached with Faber Rejto, Los Angeles; Gaspar Casado, Siena, and Leonard Rose, New York.

In addition to his performances of the standard repertoire, he has performed much contemporary music for the cello.

The concert and the reception for the artist which follows are open to the public free of charge.

On the program for the concert is the following:

Suite III in C major, J. S. Bach
Ciaccona, Intermezzo e Adagio, Luigi Dallapiccola
Parisonatina Al'Dodecafonia, Donald Martino
Suite I in G major, Op. 131c, Max Reger
Fantasy, Op. 19 (1951), Gunther Schuller

Adult Education Resumes Classes Week of Jan. 14

After an unavoidable delay the Arlington Adult Education program will resume with a second semester beginning the week of Jan. 14.

New classes will start in Beginners Typing on Mondays, Law for the Layman and Yoga on Tuesdays, Beginners Cake Decorating on Wednesdays and on Thursdays Federal and State Income Tax Preparation, Investments, Contract Bridge, and Intermediate Yoga will be offered.

Due to numerous requests for a Crocheting class one will be given on Thursday evenings. If sufficient enrollment is obtained, Mrs. Patricia Ross will hold Seasonal Decorations on Mondays.

A number of other classes have openings and information on any course may be obtained by calling the Adult Education office at the school department ext. 138.

Registration for Middlesex Community College Spring Semester will be held Feb. 4th and Feb. 7 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. and Feb. 5 and Feb. 6, 6:30-7:30 p.m. Residents may obtain further information by contacting the Division of Continuing Education at Middlesex Community College.

Art Association Hosts Rev. Palmquist At 7

Rev. Roger Palmquist will be the guest speaker at tonight's meeting of the Arlington Art Association which will be held at the Fox Library at 7 p.m.

Rev. Palmquist was born in Spokane, Wash., and raised in Minnesota and Illinois. He attended North Park College in Chicago, and Wheaton College. He also attended the North Park Theological Seminary and San Francisco Theological Seminary and was ordained to the Christian ministry in 1950. He spent 17 years as a parish minister for the Evangelical Covenant Church of America, including 14 years as pastor in Waltham.

Since his high school days he has been interested in art. He has prepared layout design and illustrated material for countless books and promotional pieces. His flair for cartooning was nurtured at the American Academy of Art and with the Famous Artists Schools at Westport, Conn. He received his greatest inspiration from Charles Schultz, creator of the comic strip "Peanuts," with whom he spent a year studying. He is a lecturer, illustrator, free-lance cartoonist, and is presently editor of a denominational newspaper.

His talk is entitled "The Best Things in Life are These," and explains how happiness comes not from what we have but what we are. This program takes a look at some of the common wonders of life that make for a sense of fulfillment.

The Association extends an invitation to interested residents to attend this meeting and welcomes anyone interested in joining.

Elementary Menu

Monday, submarine sandwich, potato salad, fruit cocktail, milk.

Tuesday, tuna salad, cheese, apple sauce, cole slaw, milk.

Wednesday, ham and cheese sandwich, garden salad, peaches, two Dutch fudge cookies, milk.

Thursday, chicken salad sandwich, peanuts, cole slaw, fruit cocktail, milk.

Friday, peanut butter and jelly, cheese, cole slaw, pineapple, chocolate cake with vanilla icing, milk.

Menus are subject to change. Pupils are asked to bring exact change with them when they pay for lunch tickets.

First Parish Plans Saturday Dinner for Scholarships

Members and friends of First Parish Unitarian Universalist Church in Arlington will meet this Saturday evening at 6:30 for their annual "Cent-A-Meal" Dinner, a fund-raising event sponsored by the Laymen's League of the church.

Each year the League awards approximately $1000 in scholarship aid grants to students preparing for the Unitarian Universalist ministry. Each family in the congregation receives a special Cent-A-Meal coupon book at the start of the year. The 1973 banks will be brought to the dinner this Saturday, providing the necessary funds for next year's scholarship awards.

Receiving grants this year are David P. Hubner, a senior at Harvard Divinity School, and Charles Giarratana, a second-year student at Boston University School of Theology. Both men are serving the church as part-time student associate ministers, and both are Arlington residents.

An additional award will be made to Meadville-Lombard Theological School, Chicago, Ill., for the benefit of a student yet to be selected. Harold G. Creelman is in charge of the Cent-A-Meal program.

Donato Promoted

Richard G. Donato of 20 Udine St. has been promoted to manager in the premium-atric division of the policy collection services department at John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

In his new position, Donato will manage a division engaged in initiating and controlling all premium payments and accounting for ordinary policies.

Since joining the John Hancock in April 1963 under Northeastern University's co-operative supervisory training program as a computer operator, Donato has served as a management trainee, technical and training supervisor, and assistant manager in policy collection services. He is a graduate of Northeastern University.

Paper for the Paper for Parks Program may be taken to the Town Yard any time any day. An easy way to package it is in grocery store bags.

YOUR PHARMACIST SPEAKS

Harold R. Partamian, B.S.
Registered Pharmacist

Many people believe that tuberculosis has been conquered because the death rate has fallen to a low level. It is true that fewer people are dying of this disease than ever before, but the tuberculosis problem still exists. There are about 50,000 new cases in the United States each year. The most effective way to fight tuberculosis is through the use of tuberculin skin tests and chest X-rays.

For the patient's comfort, RAWSON PHARMACY, 201 Broadway, sells or rents complete sickroom supplies. Wheel chairs, walkers, canes, crutches and commodes. Cosmetics, men's toiletries, photo supplies, Whitman and Candy Cupboard candles and cosmetics are all available for your holiday gifts. Phone 648-1991.

HELPFUL HINT: If you awake in the night and smell smoke, open the door of your room cautiously. To throw it open may be fatal.

Mrs. Michael Walter Laczynski

Cynthia Louise Trenchard Is Bride Of Michael Laczynski

St. James Episcopal Church, Cambridge, was the setting for the Dec. 22 marriage of Cynthia Louise Trenchard to Michael Walter Laczynski.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Trenchard of 363 Appleton st. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Walter D. Laczynski and the late Mr. Laczynski of Camden, S.C.

Rev. Russell Way officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Anthony's Pier 4.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white empire peau de soie gown with puff sleeves and two long powder-blue ribbons from the waist. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a headpiece of pearls and a powder-blue ribbon. She carried a cascade of white poms and white sweetheart roses.

Susan Trenchard of Arlington was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Joyce Trenchard of Worcester and Sandra Laczynski of Deerfield. They wore gowns of long powder blue crepe with navy blue and velvet bolero jackets. They carried nosegays of white poms and pink flowers.

Ronald W. Laczynski of Deerfield was best man. Ushers were William A. Trenchard of Worcester and Raymond E. Perkins of Conway.

Mrs. Laczynski is a graduate of University of Massachusetts with a BA in Elementary education. Her husband earned a BS in mechanical engineering from University of Massachusetts. He is a member of the Camden, S.C., Jaycees.

The couple is making their home in Camden, S.C.

Judith Ann Rizzo Marries William Murray Of Woburn

There were arrangements of yellow and white mums on the altar of St. Charles Church for the Nov. 17th marriage of Judith Ann Rizzo of Arlington and William Francis Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Murray of Woburn.

Rev. Daniel J. Hickey officiated at the ceremony, and a reception followed at Boston University's "The Castle."

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Rizzo of 258 Florence ave., was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Luton crepe was enhanced with Venice lace and a matching headpiece held her short illusion veil. She carried a single mum surrounded by stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mrs. Raymond Garrahan was matron of honor for her sister, gowned in brandy-colored velvet with off-white lace bodice and cuffs. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow, russet, and gold mums.

Identically gowned, the bridesmaids were Ellen Murray, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. John Magnuson, Mrs. John Donahue, and Mrs. Charles Inderiden. Maria Schmidt, the bride's niece, was junior bridesmaid.

Robert Murray was best man for his brother. Ushering were David Murray, the bridegroom's brother, John Magnuson, Robert Galante, and Ronald Weaver.

The bride graduated from Sargent College of Boston University, and is teaching at Woburn High School. Mr. Murray graduated from Keith Academy and Merrimack College, and received his master's degree in English from Rivier College. He is a teacher at Arlington Catholic High School.

Following a wedding trip to London, England, Mr. and Mrs. Murray are residing in Woburn.

Karen A. Maresca Becomes The Bride Of Philip Boyd

Karen Anne Maresca, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Maresca of Arlington, became the bride of Philip Gordon Boyd of Quincy, at St. James Church. They were married by the Monsignor Fenney.

The bride wore a long white satin A-line gown and matching train illusioned by a cathedral veil. The bodice of the dress and bottom of the dress was trimmed in lace and pearls.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Alice Shea of Tyngsboro, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were the bride's sister Margaret Maresca of Arlington; the bride's cousin, Candace Roper of Arlington; friends of the bride, Elizabeth Holland of Stoneham and Vivian Contestible of Milton.

The bridegroom's brother, Joseph Boyd of Quincy, was the best man. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Roger Boyd of Taunton; his cousin, James Boyd of Quincy; the bride's brother-in-law, Kevin Shea of Tyngsboro; and Robert Devin of Dorchester.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington High School and Burdett College. She is employed by the federal government. The bridegroom is a graduate of North Quincy High School. He served in the Navy and is now a stock broker for J.B. Maguire & Co., Inc. of Boston.

After a honeymoon in Bermuda, the couple are residing in Dorchester.

Historians Are Married At The Old Schwamb Mill

The Old Schwamb Mill provided an unusual but appropriate setting for the wedding of Randolph Langenbach and Tamara K. Hareven on Dec. 22.

Mrs. John A. Fitzmaurice of Arlington, the mill's director, who originally saved it from destruction and converted it into an active craft center, hosted the wedding.

Mr. Langenbach, a resident of Cambridge, has been involved in the historic preservation movement of mill buildings over the past six years as a designer, architectural historian, and photographer. He has been instrumental in focussing public attention on the preservation and adaptation of high quality design 19th century industrial buildings in New England.

His bride, an associate professor of history at Clark University, Worcester, specializes in urban history. Her research focusses on New England industrial communities.

Both hold research grants from the National Endowment For The Humanities, received independently in support of their research projects on the history of the planned industrial community in Manchester, N.H.

Mr. Langenbach is writing a book on the architectural design of the Amoskeag Mills in Manchester, N.H. Mrs. Langenbach is writing a book on the industrial experience of the workers in the Amoskeag textile mills. They had undertaken those projects before they knew each other and met while carrying out their research. Matching funds on both research grants are provided by the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum.

The 19th century Old Schwamb Mill in which the wedding took place is on the National Register of Historic Places as an outstanding example of the continuing use and adaptability of a mill site from earliest colonial times to the present.

Developed as a waterpowered grist mill and saw mill by the first Winships in this colony when Arlington was part of Cambridge, the mill has evolved as a wood-working oval frame mill in its most recent 100 years to its life now as a living industrial museum and craft education center.

Vestiges of the earliest mill are easily seen in the fieldstone foundations on which the present buildings stand.

Women's Fitness Begins On Monday

The Recreation Department has begun the Women's Fitness class for women over 21 under the direction of Maxine Shapiro. This will be Mrs. Shapiro's second year as instructor.

Women are requested not to wear shoes or socks. The program consists of warm-ups, stretching and relaxing exercises. The last half-hour of the program is improvisation using various exercises stressed during the first hour. Both are to music.

Records for the program are provided by the Music Department of Robbins Library.

Classes are held on Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9 in the Freshman Gym of the high school. Women may join the class by bringing their registration fee on Jan. 14th to the gym.

O'Neil Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. O'Neil of Charlestown announce the birth of their son, Robert William, on Dec. 26th at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. O'Neil of 63 Warren st., and Mrs. and Mrs. William Kennedy of East Boston. Maternal great grandmother is Mrs. Catherine Crowley of East Boston.

Crittenton League To Meet Wednesday

The Arlington Circle Florence Crittenton will meet in the Edith Fox Library at 1 o'clock Wednesday following a coffee hour and business meeting with the president, Mrs. Arthur Garland, presiding.

The program will be presented by chairman Mrs. Marge Puopolo. Mrs. Olga Faddis will demonstrate the art of ceramic making, and decorating in different methods. This is the first open meeting of the new year.

LWV Sets Meetings On National Plans

In preparation for the national convention of the League of Women Voters scheduled for May in San Francisco, the Arlington League of Women Voters will hold two program planning meetings next week.

Both meetings will be held at the home of League President Peg Capron at 248 Gray st. One meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 7:30. The other meeting will be held on Jan. 17 at 9:30.

Arlington members are invited to attend and to express their opinions as to what topics the League should focus upon for study and action in the near future. The League urges members to participate so that future programming will be truly representative of the memberships interests.

The Diet Workshop Plans Open House Tuesday, Wednesday

The Arlington Diet Workshop will hold a free Open House on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. and on Wednesday, at 9:30 a.m. at Fidelity House, 25 Medford st., to present "The Whole Family", a new approach to weight control. The public is welcome to attend without obligation.

The Diet Workshop has now trained its staff to not only help its group members, but every member of the family.

"The Whole Family Cook Book" will be offered at a nominal charge in all classes. It will incorporate recipes everyone will enjoy. In addition, a free guide to family meal planning will be distributed to all in attendance during the week of Jan. 14th.

Free low-calorie recipes are available upon request by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Evelyn McLean, 177 Wildwood st., Wilmington, Ma. 01887.

St. Camillus Sodality

The St. Camillus sodality will have its monthly meeting on Monday evening following the 8 p.m. Mass. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Jean Palmer of the Armstrong Corp. Co.

Catholic Mothers' Dinner Wednesday

The Arlington Catholic Mothers' Guild will sponsor a "Gourmets Delight" smorgasbord on Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the ACHS auditorium. The proceeds will go to the Oratory Club to help pay for traveling expenses. Contact Mrs. John Genewicz of 27 Apache trail for tickets.

Troop 302 Gives Awards

Boy Scout Troop 302, sponsored by the Trinity Baptist Church, held Parents' Night recently. A ham dinner, prepared by Roland Demers, was served to parents, scouts, and guests. Skits were put on by the boy scouts, and Christmas gifts were distributed.

Warren O'Connor, scoutmaster, introduced the following new boy scouts and their parents—Scott Andrews, Duffy Baskerville, James Chalmers, Stephen Gera, James McGowan, Keith O'Connor, and Jerome Tocio.

Several awards were received by the scouts. The life scout award was presented to Barry O'Connor, first class scout award, to David Dauphinee and Steven Dello Russo, and Tenderfoot award, to John Frederick.

In addition, merit badges and skill awards were presented to Duffy Baskerville, Jay Bradley, John Frederick, Stephen Gera, Barry O'Connor, Keith O'Connor, and Dana Scannell.

The den chief cord was received by Jay Bradley.

Year pins went to Joey Dello Russo, Peter Fiore, Barry O'Connor, Russell Fiore, David Dauphinee, John Frederick, Jay Bradley, and Gary Olson.

On behalf of the troop, Joey Dello Russo, Sr. Patrol Leader, presented an engraved silver cup and a pen and pencil set to Charles Nason, outgoing scoutmaster, as a token of thanks and appreciation. Nason remains with the troop as its institutional representative.

Also on the troop committee are John Frederick, Sr., Committee chairman, Roland Demers, treasurer, and Lee Gera, committeeman.

Mr. O'Connor announced the coming events for January which include a deep freeze camping trip and a troop swim meet.

Karagianis Is Elected Parish Head

Fred Karagianis was recently re-elected president of the Parish Council at Saint Athanasius in Arlington. This is the first time in the short history of the parish that a president was elected to two successive terms.

Karagianis has been a staunch supporter of the parish since its founding in 1964. He has served in various capacities on the parish council and has headed a number of important committees.

During his recent administration, Mr. Karagianis spearheaded the successful "Save the Steeple" fund raising drive and was instrumental in initiating a number of improvements to the church's interior. The parish also showed an increase in membership and income.

Karagianis is married to the former Cather Tasioglou of Winthrop and is the father of two daughters, Maria, a staff correspondent for the Boston Globe, and Elizabeth, a recent graduate of Lesley College. He is a New England representative of the Parodi Tobacco Company.

Elected to serve with President Karagianis were: Frank Dalakis, vice president; George Makredes, secretary; and George Sakorafos treasurer.
